CIVIC AFFAIRS

Janice Thoroughgood

The last Civic Affairs meeting was held at the Shamrock Hotel on February 9. There were no Development Permits to discuss.

Loose Moose Theatre Company have contacted the community to inform us of their application for a Change of Use Permit from the City Planning Dept., to develop a 190-seat theatre space in the Ramsay Design Centre - previously occupied by the Alzheimer Society of Calgary. The Calgary Land Use Bylaw requires 1 parking stall for every 3 seats. Loose Moose will have access to 81 parking stalls at the Design Centre. This is considered a discretionary development of this zoning district, and falls under the entertainment establishment category.

Civic Affairs meets the second Monday of each month at the Shamrock Hotel at 7pm. Meetings are open to Ramsay Community members. Our next meeting is March 8.

TRAFFIC CALMING UPDATE

Tom Jevne

Information regarding traffic calming, the streetscape enhancement project and future Stampede development was presented at the February 3rd Ramsay Community Association general meeting. The meeting was well attended and I would like to thank all the people that came out.

Warren Connell and Bill King from the Stampede presented information and answered question regarding the long-term expansion plans for Stampede Park. Much of the proposed expansion is in the area north of the Round-up center and the Saddledome, into Vic Park, to 12th Avenue S.E. Plans included projects such as the Round-up Centre expansion, a new Ag facility, youth campus, and more green space.

The relocation of their maintenance facilities presently located along the Elbow River to the land just north of 25th Avenue S.E. between Dartmouth Road and Spiller Road would have the greatest potential impact on this community.

A new access would be created to connect this parcel of land to the land housing the horse barns located on the west side of Spiller Road. There were two potential options presented. One would be to tunnel under Spiller Road. The other option was to close Spiller Road south of 6th Street and connect the lands with a private roadway running east and west.

The representatives from the Stampede said they did not prefer one option to the other and were looking for direction from the Community. Also, there is no definite time or schedule for starting this part of the overall expansion. Plans are contingent on a number of factors including funding.

A survey was available for comments regarding which option was preferred and what people view as the main traffic related issues in the community. We will have the results of this survey available for you in the next newsletter.

BEAUTIFICATION

Brenda Japp

The Streetscape Committee has been co-ordinating with the Traffic Committee in regards to the traffic-calming that Ramsay hopes to see in the near future. Using architect Marc Boutin's concept plan relating to calming measures in our community and the completed surveys that the community have provided, in the recent traffic meeting as well as the streetscape open houses, we are defining the hot spots and most urgent areas. This year should bring the implementation of both traffic-calming measures throughout Ramsay as well as phase one of the Streetscape Beautification project. Urban Forestry has already dug numerous holes in our boulevards for more trees, which will be planted in the Spring.

have recently been sold and they will extend to August 2005. Please be aware that the by-laws also state that for voting in the General Meetings, all community members must have present their membership cards. I know. A little annoying, but those are the rules. God forbid we should have people from another community voting on our issues!

The second matter is to let you that Evelyn Bell, presently a member-at-large, has also assumed the duties of Secretary. The very best of luck to you Evelyn!

I would like to extend hearty congratulations to the community of Inglewood and the Colonel Walker School. We in Ramsay are all too familiar with the incredible hard work and extra involvement it takes to save a school... and the relief and joy when all the effort pays off. Thank you to the Inner-City Schools Coalition! Well done Inglewood!

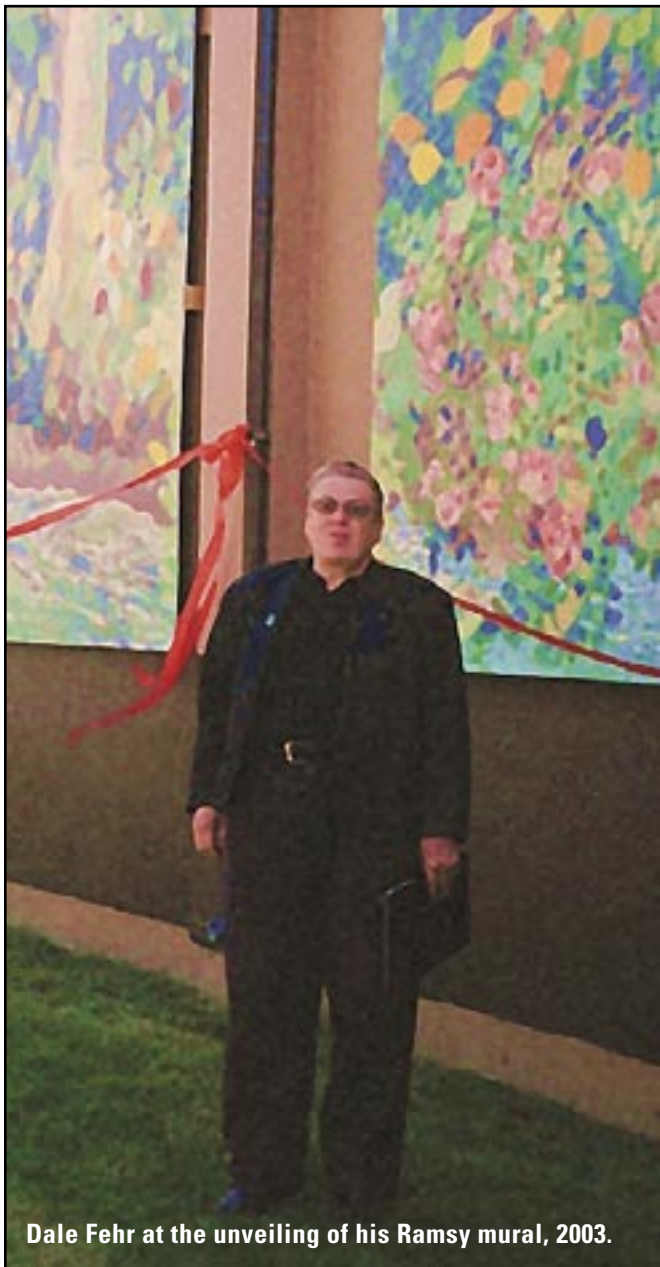

There are a number of events being planned so please review this newsletter, and keep your eyes peeled on the Community sign. We are also placing a bulletin board on the fence in front of the Hall for community and city notices. It is temporary until a more formal panel can be created.

Come on everyone! Help your community by getting involved! And staying involved!

THANK YOU, RAMSAY!”

I lived in Ramsay 23 years and it will always be close to my heart. As a truly caring and thoughtful community of individuals, you have given your time, creative energy and joyous fun that I will long cherish. There is no greater peace than to feel understood. Even better is the feeling of being valued for uniqueness. That’s why I love Ramsay - none of us ever fit in the conventional box! You’re all welcome to visit me or keep in touch. Until we meet again I’ll be at 204 Marshall St. E., MEAFORD, Ontario N4L 1B6.
I’d love to hear news about your activities to keep up the spirit!
Respectfully, Dale Fehr

CHANGES AT THE POINT OF ART

Pam Dalsin

The Point of Art Society is heading for some major new changes. First of all, we have taken over the entire complex and it will be run by our independent Society. This will make us a true artist community, unique in this city. There are plans for a new, larger gallery space on the main floor. In the spring, we will be painting the outside of the building and updating our 'look'. We will continue to develop our beautiful perennial garden out back, adding sculpture and benches. Since we are Not-for-Profit, our members pitch in and we do most of the work, ourselves - usually throwing in a pot-luck or a bar-beque. We continue to get new artist members and now have a waiting list for studio spaces. Our studio space has become more affordable since our independence and there are currently about 40 members in our Society. Many of our new artists have come from other cities and bring a new energy and experience to enhance our range of works. There is much to see in the 20 studios, as well as the artwork on the walls, in the halls, and of course, in the Gallery. For more information, check our website at www.artpoint.ca. Who knows what else might happen? It's all in our hands, and we're very excited. We are happy to be in your neighbourhood. Come by and visit us soon!

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Brian Del Castillo, Principal

RAMSAY SCHOOL

Last June the school applied to the Community Initiatives Program for $ 75,000 to refurbish the computer lab in the library. As you know, this program operates on the basis of the requesting group or organization raising matching funds. The school did not raise any matching funds and yet we received a cheque for $ 40,000! The money will be spent to purchase new computers for the library along with other items such as new television sets and DVD/VHS players to be used in the classroom. As you can see, the school and the school council both search out new opportunities for growth and enhancement of the school program.

In March the school will focus on writing and each week we'll promote it in a different way. We are also inviting authors and illustrators to visit the school, talk to the students and present workshops. We have already had Lana Skauge, a popular storyteller. Carolyn Fisher and Dean Stanton, both illustrators, will visit the school in March and Tololwa Mollé, a children's author, will visit in April. We hope to have a section of our library dedicated to written works produced by our students. We are also exploring the possibility of Dean Stanton creating a work of art in one of our areas in the school.

NEW CBE SCIENCE SCHOOL!

Voice your support for a central location

At this moment, the Calgary Board of Education (CBE) is selecting a school for their new Science Alternative Program (K-9) to start Sep. 2004. Colonel Walker School, in Inglewood, is one of 3 possibilities; the other two are likely farther north and south in the City. One of the criteria for deciding where to place this program is the geographical area where there is the greatest parent interest. A central location like Colonel Walker School would better serve children living more central in the city. Colonel Walker School is also within short walking distance to 5 science-related venues that are interested in a partnership with the school. If you feel a science program is something your child would benefit from and a central location is essential, it is important that you contact the CBE to influence their school selection. The CBE is conducting a short telephone survey for feedback from interested parents. Please call Ms. Maureen Shields at 294-8114 for the placement of the Science Alternative Program at Colonel Walker School. If you would like more information, please contact Ellen Polegato with the Program Renewal Group for Colonel Walker School at 265-0470 or ellenpolegato@hotmail.com.

Ghosts Sighted on Main Street

Joe Donnelly

92 Years Ago at the Corner of Atlantic Ave. and McLeod Street...

You're driving home from work and as usual get stopped by the traffic lights at 12th Street and 9th Ave. As you wait, your eyes shift back and forth between the traffic signals and the building behind -- the Blow Block as it turns out, just beyond Spolumbo's. And suddenly you're aware that you're looking at . . . a ghost!

There is a ghost in the Blow Block, high on the west wall, visible above the Pattison billboard. Like a difficult eye chart, a ghost advertisement appears there --- faded by time and the modern rush, but still legible after 92 years: THE BOYS.

The boys, Fred Thompson and Harry Flumerfeld eventually moved their shop downtown to 7th Ave. Their place in the Blow Block was for years occupied by Jake's Haberdashery. It is interesting to note, and somehow appropriate, that The Boys' original store on the corner is now the site of the masculine Spolumbo's.

Other features of note in the photo are the streetcar tracks, the unpaved road, the telephone poles not yet strung with wire, though a man (partially obscuring the ghost) appears to be up one pole doing just that.

Thanks to the Inglewood Newsletter for letting us run this article.

NEW MEETS OLD AT THE RAMSAY VILLAGE MARKET

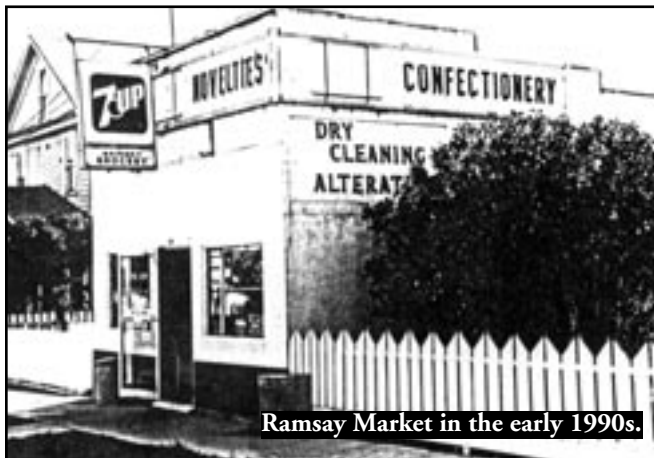

Beth Carter

Inglewood and Ramsay are like a small town. It is hard to believe it is in a city. The neighbours here actually talk to each other and help each other out.

Lisa Parker-Shaw has lived in the Inglewood and Ramsay area for the last ten years. She used to shop at the Ramsay Market, a convenience store on 23rd Avenue, across the street from Ramsay School on Spiller Road. When the store came up for sale two years ago, she had a good feeling about buying it – it just needed a little care and attention. She did just that, and the store is now clean and repainted, with a new façade crowned by a lively sign by local artist Dean Stanton. Lisa is pleased to offer a variety of produce, including natural free-range beef, selected seasonal organic produce, free-range eggs (when available), wild rice, organic coffee, fresh baking and snacks. Lisa will also take suggestions for other items, if there is enough demand.

I want to provide fresh, good, healthy food that tastes great – just like it did when we were kids!

Her focus is simple and local. She wants to provide a service that Ramsay currently does not have. Many of her customers include seniors and singles living in the area. Therefore, she offers small portions and reasonable prices. She also features local artists on consignment, as well as crafts, gift cards, gift baskets etc. made by local artisans.

Ramsay Market in the early 1990s.

Lisa has worked as a free-lance writer and photographer for many years, often working for the oil business. Several years ago she produced her first book of fiction, Edith's Paws, set in Inglewood and Ramsay. Now with her two children at Ramsay School, she is pleased to run the store Monday – Friday from 9:30 – 4 and Saturday from 10-4.

The store itself has a long history in Ramsay. With an apartment in the basement, and a small house later attached at the back, it has always been a live and work establishment. The building may date from 1908, but the first listing for the market is in 1914, when F. Davids ran a grocery. David Barry then ran the market from 1920 until the 1940s. It became known as the Ramsay Confectionery in 1945, and was run by a Mrs. Hilda Schlosar in 1960. Tran, the last person to run the store, has now moved to Northwest Calgary, and is running a store on the edge of the city.

It's great to see a new business opening in Ramsay and continuing this marketing tradition!

PEOPLE IN RAMSAY

Beth Carter

Ramsay is a diverse and historical inner-city neighbourhood, which is arts-friendly, family-based, and active. We are a village surrounded by green space in the midst of the city. In this new monthly column, we will meet one person who helps to define our wonderful community.

Allison Morgan, Artist

What would you do if you were given the opportunity to live and work surrounded by thousands of years of history, and magnificent art and architecture everywhere you looked? Last year, artist Allison Morgan travelled with her architect husband Marc Boutin, and their three children to the city of Rome, courtesy of the Canada Council's Prix de Rome prize for architecture. They lived for one year in an apartment in the central neighbourhood of Trastevere, a lively medieval pedestrian district, which is also walking distance to all the major sites in Rome, such as the Colliseum and the Forum.

Allison was first trained as a sculptor, and studied 3D Design at the Emily Carr College of Art and Design, where she graduated in 1991. She focussed on ceramic sculpture while living in Vancouver, but became hooked on painting when she and Marc spent over a year living in Barcelona, Spain in 1996. Since moving to Ramsay in 1997, both Allison and Marc have been actively involved in the community, participating on the Ramsay Board and various committees.

Although motherhood is taking up a lot of Allison's time right now, her Rome experience was a real inspiration to put aside time for her art. In Rome, you are surrounded by history and culture – everywhere is alive and there is a real intensity. She began a new series of paintings in a moody, atmospheric, out-of-focus style, of aquaducts, the famous pines of Rome, and members of her family. This new style came about due to an interest in digital photographic technology, and the quest to paint what is in between – between time, space and the moment. In a way, I am interested in capturing what most people would discard – the motion. There are not many moments when we are totally still.

Now back in Ramsay, Allison is continuing to investigate the techniques she developed in Rome. Allison summarizes her approach to painting by saying: If I can capture the light, then it is a good painting.

If you would like more information, please give Allison a call at 237-8456.

The painting explores the overlap between the historic conventions of portrait painting and the contemporary digital paradigm of morphing. The role of the portrait as legitimizing the place of a particular character in history is challenged by the open-endedness of the representation; male/female, young/old, rich/poor, etc, are unresolved prescriptions that lend alternate readings, engaging the viewer and their own history.
